Chicago Man Apprehended In Car: Service Stations Robbed

Ernest McCab, aged 52, claiming his home as 735 North Wabash avenue, Chicago, and formerly of Joplin, Mo., was arrested at 11 o'clock Sunday night in a loaded merchandise car at the North-Western freight depot by Special Agent Thomas A. Schroeder of Chicago. McCabe is said to have broken the seal on the car door and to have cut a heavy wire on the door. He was turned over to Patrolman Richard Pomeroy by the railroad detective and taken to the police station where he was locked up. Later a new Chevrolet coupe bearing Kansas license plates was found about two blocks southwest of the depot and McCabe told the officers that he had parked the car at that point, planning to remain over night.

Special Agents On Duty
Following recent box car thefts and forced entrances to the freight depot, special agents of the North-Western have been on duty for some time in the local freight yards. According to the report at the police station, Special Agent Schroeder who was on duty last night, saw McCabe approach the merchandise car which had been switched to the platform north of the freight depot, break a seal and with a pair of heavy pliers, cut the wire on the door lock. Pushing back the door, he climbed into the car and was said to have been in the act of unloading cases of cigarettes when the detective appeared at the car door. He is reported to have thrown a case directly at the special agent's head. He was arrested at once and turned over to Officer Pomeroy who was near the scene.

Special agents of both the North-Western and Illinois Central arrived in Dixon this morning to question McCabe. He was reported to have told varied stories of his presence in Rock Island and Moline Saturday and Sunday and of having traveled extensively over the west and southwest. An examination of the car which McCabe claimed to have purchased recently in Joplin, Mo., according to the officers, revealed indications of an altered engine number.

McCab told the officers that he has a wife and children at a rooming house in Chicago and that he was returning to that city from a trip to Des Moines, Cedar Rapids, Davenport and Rock Island. According to his narrative, he arrived in Dixon Sunday morning about 10 o'clock and last night went to the vicinity of the North-Western depot where he expected to remain for the night.

Service Stations Robbed
Service station thieves were busy Saturday night in the vicinity of Dixon and in Franklin Grove. In the Dixon robbery the thieves were apparently thirsty and among articles of loot, took 15 bottles of pop of assorted flavor, according to reports to Sheriff Fred Richardson Sunday morning. The first report came from the Charles Bremer station east of the city limits on the Lincoln Highway near the Dixon Municipal airport.

A lock on one of the gasoline pumps was pried open and 15 gallons of gasoline pumped out. The thieves then turned their attention to the filling station and, breaking a window in the rear of the small building, entered and ransacked the pump. Beside the 15 gallons of gasoline which was pumped from the pump, the following articles were reported missing: Five gallons of kerosene, four gallons of lubricating oil, 15 bottles of pop of assorted flavor, and one thermos jug of one gallon capacity.

The Kent service station on the Lincoln Highway at the east limits of Franklin Grove was the scene of a hasty visit of thieves sometime Saturday night. Here, a lock on one of the gasoline pumps was sawed off, presumably with a hack saw, and ten gallons of gasoline pumped out. No attempt was made to enter and ransack the service station.

Two Alabama Negroes Lynched By
Mob For Fatal Attack On White
Girl; Third Prisoner Missing

Tuscaloosa, Ala., Aug. 14—(AP)—One of two Negroes spirited away by a lynching party was still missing today after the bodies of his two companions were found strangled by bullets.

The three, Dan Pippen, Jr., 18, Elmore Clark, 28, and A. T. Hadden, 16, had been indicted for killing Miss Vaudine Maddox, 21-year-old white girl, whose battered body was found in a ravine.

Police said that as a result of rumors of a threatened attack on the jail here, they decided to remove the prisoners to Birmingham for safekeeping. Sheriff R. L. Shambelin said that on the way the party was halted yesterday near the Jefferson county line by two automobiles loaded with armed men, who seized the Negroes.

Later the bodies of Pippen and Hadden were found near Blocton. Acting on instructions from Governor B. M. Miller, Judge Henry B. Foster ordered a grand jury investigation.

Kidnaping of Wealthy
Oklahoma Oil Man is Solved By Six Arrests

Leader, Captured In Texas, Also Killer In Kansas City

Dallas, Texas, Aug. 14—(AP)—A farmhouse near Decatur, Tex., where Harvey Bailey, notorious criminal, was arrested Saturday night, was identified today by Department of Justice agents as the rendezvous in which kidnapers held Charles A. Urschel, Oklahoma City oil man who was ransomed for $200,000. The officers said they found Urschel's fingerprints in profusion about the place.

Bailey carried a large sum of the money identified as part of the ransom paid for Urschel's release. Bailey, also identified as the leader in the Kansas City Union Station shooting of June 17, when four officers and Frank Nash, a convict, were slain by machine gunners, was asleep in the back yard of the farmhouse when four Department of Justice agents, four Dallas county and four Fort Worth officers descended upon the place.

He awoke to find himself covered with machine guns and was unable to reach for two automatic pistols or a rifle that he had on the cot with him. Another rifle and pistol and hundreds of rounds of ammunition were available on the back porch of the house a few feet away.

CONFESSIONS OBTAINED
Washington, Aug. 14—(AP)—Attorney General Cummings announced today that the arrest of Harvey Bailey in Texas, Saturday, not only resulted in the apprehension of the leader in the Kansas City depot slayings of June 17 but evidently solved the kidnaping of Charles F. Urschel at Oklahoma City July 22.

Cummings said Bailey, who has been positively identified as the wielder of the machine gun in the killing of Frank Nash, notorious criminal, and four federal and city enforcement officers at Kansas City, had a large sum of money when captured before dawn Saturday seven miles south of Paradise, Texas, and that this money was used by the Urschel family to pay the kidnapers.

Five Others Taken
Five others were taken in the early morning raid on the Texas farm house, including R. G. Shannon, apparently the owner of the house; his wife Ora Shannon; his son Arman and Arman's wife Oleta, and Earl Brown, father of Oleta Shannon.

The place where he was taken, has been identified as the hideout where the kidnapers confined Urschel until he was released on payment of the ransom.

Confessions from five others who took part in the kidnaping have been obtained, but the Attorney General would not announce their names.

Protest Sentence Given U. S. Sailor By German Courts

Berlin, Aug. 14—(AP)—Amazement was expressed at the American Consulate General today at the severity of the sentence imposed on Thorsten Johnson, American seaman charged with having called Chancellor Hitler a Czech Jew.

The Consulate expects shortly to send a representative to Stettin, where an emergency court ruled that Johnson must serve six months.

"Before Johnson's trial," a consulate spokesman said, "we were in contact with the states attorney at Stettin and received a distinct impression that the case was not regarded as serious. Especially as Johnson claims he merely said, 'Hitler is a Czechoslovak and the Jews don't like him.'"

"But even if he said that Hitler is a Czech Jew we consider six months imprisonment grotesque."

CORN YIELD THIS STATE SMALLEST
FORTY-SIX YEARS

Oats Yield Is Also Lowest Since 1881, Says Crop Report Today

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 14—(AP)—Intense heat, drought and chinch bugs have brought Illinois prospects of the smallest corn crop in 46 years says A. J. Surratt, statistician for the Federal Department of Agriculture in his August crop survey.

Drought made conditions especially unfavorable in the central and eastern sections during the past month and corn probably will be further damaged by a second brood of chinch bugs now hatching, the report said. Frost is to be feared, due to late planting. The survey gave the corn prospect, as of Aug. 1, as 222,778,000 bushels, compared with last year's production of 387,043,000.

Winter wheat prospects were 34,592,000 bushels, compared with 21,750,000 for last year; spring wheat 798,000 bushels, compared with 1,683,000 last year.

Oats Also Very Low

"Oats are expected to yield only 74,960,000 bushels and as indicated will be the lowest production since 1881," the report states. Bailey also has a low production prospect with indications of 4,725,000 bushels, compared with 10,574,000 last year. Thousands of acres were ruined by chinch bugs.

Soy beans are spotted, pastures, below average, are extremely short in central and eastern areas. The potato crops is expected to yield 1,590,000 bushels—the lowest ever recorded—compared with 4,890,000 last year.

ADVISED TODAY

Illinois Council Instructs Members To Pay Taxes

Alton, Ill., Aug. 14—(AP)—The Council of Illinois Merchants, which has started court action against the two per cent sales tax, today advised retailers to pay the tax under protest if it has been assumed by them.

Payments to the State Department of Finance on July sales at retail of tangible personal property are due tomorrow.

A statement from I. H. Streeter of Alton, one of the attorneys for the Merchant's Council today said: "If the retailer fails to make a return and the Department compels him to pay, then if the act is held unconstitutional by the Supreme Court the one paying under compulsion can recover the tax paid. The failure to pay under the act subjects the one failing to pay to both a civil action for the tax with penalties and criminal prosecution which is punishable by a fine or both."

"It seems that the tax must be paid under compulsion and that the mere payment, under protest, is not sufficient; however, if the retailer assumes and pays the tax himself then it may be that he could recover the tax by protesting the payment."

CUBA'S SAVIOR IS DRIVEN AWAY BY REVOLUTIONISTS

Ferrara Starved and Bled To Free Island From Spain's Yoke

New York, Aug. 14—(AP)—Col. Orestes Ferrara, who starved and bled that Cuba might be free from Spain, was back in the United States today a hated exile from the Republic he helped to create. "Sic transit gloria"—thus passed glory—might well have been the legend on the Pullman coach that bore him last night from Miami to Richmond, Va., where he stopped instead of proceeding on to New York as he had expected to do.

Often hailed as Cuba's savior, he was driven from his island country in the revolution that unseated President Machado.

With his was his wife, a member of an honored family of the republic, a lady whose invitation to dine was once one of the most sought-after social prizes in Washington.

Was Secretary of State Until Saturday noon, Col. Ferrara was Secretary of State of Cuba. Before that, he had been ambassador in Washington. In that post he had fought an increase in the tariff of sugar, advocated by certain Senators, and had fought so hard that he received the appellation "senator-slayer."

Through his writings and his speeches he placed before the United States his concept of an autonomous Cuba—a nation free from the implied restrictions of the Platt amendment, by which the United States reserves the right to intervene in Cuba.

Col. Ferrara was by birth an Italian. He is the scion of a family whose broad estates and vineyards are known throughout Italy. These estates and revenue from them could have been his—except for Cuba.

Sally Rand Rescued
From Drowning; Will Leave World's Fair

Chicago, Aug. 14—(AP)—A Coast Guard surman who dove into the chilly waters of Lake Michigan at the mouth of the Chicago River early today saved Sally Rand, the fan dancer, from drowning after she toppled from a speedboat carrying her from the World Fair to a night club for an engagement.

The accident occurred as Miss Rand said she stood up in the boat to get a breath of fresh air to relieve a headache and the pilot made a sharp turn. As she lost her balance and fell screaming into the water, Bob Borgstrom, Coast Guard surman George Arnold, 26, dove from the pier and swam 100 feet to her side.

She was taken to the Coast Guard station and revived. Incidentally, it was announced at the Fair concession where she has been dancing that last night marked her final appearance.

ORDER TO LEAVE
FARM PROBABLE
SUICIDE CAUSE

Chas. Schaneberg Of Bradford Told He Must Move Off

To despondency over the fact that he had been ordered to vacate the farm on which he had resided for a number of years, was attributed the suicide of Charles W. Schaneberg, prominent Bradford township farmer Saturday morning. The fact was developed at the inquest conducted at the home Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock by Coroner Frank M. Banker of Franklin Grove.

Schaneberg had been pacing the floor of his room for several nights, worrying over the prospect of locating a new home and the worry probably prompted the act, according to the testimony of his sister, Miss Dorothy Schaneberg, who discovered the body about 7 o'clock Saturday morning. A jury composed of Fred Melchhausen, foreman, Harry Schafer, Albert Come, Clarence Padonok, Harold Eich and Arthur Wagner returned a verdict finding that death was due to strangulation caused by hanging and with suicidal intent.

The sister suspected her brother might attempt his own life, she said, he having left the house and taken long walks in the field recently. On Saturday morning, he appeared to be no worse than usual and ate his breakfast, then went out to the barn, presumably to do his chores. Miss Schaneberg continued with her household duties and stepping out of the house, saw her brother's barn hat on the hay rack in the barn yard. Hurrying to the barn she started a search and in the hay mow discovered his lifeless body. She then hurried to the home of her sister whom she notified of the discovery.

Schaneberg had written a brief note, his sister stated, which indicated he premeditated the act and referred to his son, who resides with the grandparents in Ashton.

Funeral services were conducted this afternoon from the home of his sister, Mrs. Chris Klenke of Bradford township and burial was in the Ashton cemetery.

Natives Supply Food
Natives attracted by the plane's landing cooked fish for the party and the former President and the others spent the night in the plane's cramped cabin.

Arriving at Nassau yesterday, the first word from Machado was a request for rest.

"I am very tired," he said. "I do not wish to talk and I await further news from Cuba."

Comely Pasadena Beauty Parlor Operator Victim Of Murderous Attack On Roof Of Her Apartment

As police today sought a reason for the mysterious death on a roof of Helen Benkowski, 29-year-old comely beauty shop operator, Police Chief Charles Kelley commented: "It looks like a murder-ous attack."

Harold Wolcott, 33, florist, who was described by the police chief as an intimate of the woman, denied knowing anything about the three shots fired early Sunday on the roof adjoining his apartment. A bullet had entered the woman's body either through the chest or back and killed her.

A patrolman, Maynard G. Miedema, off duty at the time, also denied knowing anything of the case. He was with Wolcott when the woman was killed, he said. The police chief recounted that the florist had been drinking and that the patrolman "was not intoxicated." Wolcott was held on a charge of suspicion of murder, Miedema as a material witness.

An hour before she ventured out on the roof she told Wolcott, the florist related to police, that a man had tried to attack her as she walked through an alley.

Against the building leading to the roof rested a ladder. Chief Kelley reported he found the prints of a man on a smooth stone platform nearby.

Three shells found on the roof were scattered over a distance of 20 feet. An automatic pistol was found near her right foot.

Machado, In Bahamas, Is Not Decided On Future Plans

Nassau, N. P., Aug. 14—(AP)—Efforts, largely futile, to communicate by telephone with friends and associates in Cuba and a shopping tour to replace clothing in which he fled Saturday occupied Gerardo Machado, deposed Cuban President, and his companions in exile today.

A wireless message was sent, by the former Chief Executive to Key West for delivery to Mrs. Machado and members of their immediate family, who arrived by private yacht.

Machado's future plans, an associate said, depend on the answer he receives from Mrs. Machado and on advice from friends, in the United States and Europe.

Inquiries were made on his behalf concerning transportation facilities to Bermuda and European countries.

With Four Friends
Machado was accompanied here by four friends, Dr. Eugenio Molinetti, former Secretary of Agriculture; Dr. Jose Izquierdo, former Havana Mayor and Chief of the Havana Central District; Octavio Averhoff, former Secretary of Finance; and Manuel Mierno, personal aide. Two pilots and a Cuban aviation official shared the plane in which they fled from Cuba.

Overlaid by darkness near Andros Island, in the Bahamas, Saturday evening, Pilot William McCullough decided to bring his plane down there for the night. The party waded ashore and started to tramp to a nearby settlement they had seen from the air, but after a short walk all decided they were too fatigued and turned back.

Natives attracted by the plane's landing cooked fish for the party and the former President and the others spent the night in the plane's cramped cabin.

Arriving at Nassau yesterday, the first word from Machado was a request for rest.

"I am very tired," he said. "I do not wish to talk and I await further news from Cuba."

Originally, Plymouth Rock was a solid boulder of greenish syenite weighing about seven tons; it split during an attempt to move it to Town square during the Revolution, but the upper half was later cemented to the base.

Former Amboyite Died In Michigan

T. B. Nicholson of Amboy received a telegram Saturday afternoon announcing the death of his uncle, Wm. Nicholson, a former Amboy business man, at Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., at 9 o'clock that morning. It is understood the body of the former Amboyite, who left that community about 22 years ago, will be taken there for burial.

Information as to the time of his arrival had not been learned today, and will be announced later.

Next to the United States, France, England, Canada, Germany, Australia and Italy have the most autos in the order named.

INTERVENTION

AMERICAN GOV'T.

Hopes Their Presence Will Have Salutary Effect On Cubans

BULLETIN
Washington, Aug. 14—(AP)—The Navy dispatched the cruiser Richmond for Cuba today in addition to the three destroyers ordered to the island last night for the protection of American citizens.

BULLETIN
New York, Aug. 14—(AP)—A group of some 50 persons invaded the Cuban Consulate at 17 Battery Place today, assaulted Mario Del Pino, Acting Consul General, and removed a bust of former President Machado of Cuba.

There were divergent reports of the incident. Police said that Del Pino was struck on the jaw and threatened with shooting when he refused to surrender the bust. However, the Consulate, while acknowledging that Del Pino had been struck on the jaw, denied that he had been threatened with shooting and said that he had not refused to give up the bust.

Senor Del Pino had a lump on his left jaw, but he refused to press a complaint against his assailants.

The group, members of the A. B. C. secret society, Cuban revolutionary group, splattered soft fruit over the face of the bust and took it to Harlem in a truck for a celebration of the new regime in Cuba.

Havana, Aug. 14—(AP)—As two United States ships of war steamed into Havana harbor today to protect American property, renewed outbreaks of looting and arson impelled the Cuban military authorities to order their soldiers to fire on all persons violating public order.

Carlos Manuel de Cespedes, the new President, completed a cabinet which virtually ignored the claims of all of the old political parties, and the principal followers of the deposed President, Gerardo Machado, followed their leader's example by fleeing the island.

Two of General Machado's country estates were sacked in celebration of the victorious revolution which forced the General to abdicate and take refuge in the Bahamas.

Cruisers Curb Feelings
The presence of two American warships in the harbor—the destroyers Taylor and Claxton—exercised a salutary effect, officials said, and hope was expressed that the violence attending the revolution was near its end.

The U. S. S. Sturtevant was at Manzanillo on a similar assignment of protecting American lives and property. These warships did not indicate intervention by the United States and their presence was approved by the new President.

In Havana hundreds of Cubans gathered at the docks to see the American men-of-war. Naval officers arranged a conference with President de Cespedes.

Disorders during the night resulted in the death of one person and in grave injury to another.

Sixty omnibuses of the Cuba Company, now bankrupt, were burned by company employees who had demanded that their $25 deposits, previously posted to insure the honest performance of their duty, be returned.

ISSUED STATEMENT
Washington, Aug. 14—(AP)—President Roosevelt watched the Cuban situation intently today, still determined that the three destroyers he had sent to the island republic shall not intervene in domestic affairs but just protect the lives and persons of American citizens.

After considerable study, and with the approval of the new Cuban president, Carlos Manuel de Cespedes, Roosevelt last night dispatched two destroyers to Havana on the north, and one to Manzanillo, on the south side of the island.

Then he issued this statement: "Latest advices are to the effect that domestic disturbances, including acts of violence, are occurring (Continued on Page 2)"

Chicago Grain Table

Chicago, Aug. 14—(AP)—Strapped to fixed minimum price limits which cannot be removed until after the close of business tomorrow, the Chicago grain market stood idle today. Brokers here did little other than watch Winnipeg wheat quotations tumble about five cents per bushel. Starting nominally unchanged from Saturday's finish, the Chicago wheat market continued flat, with sellers plentiful but finding no bids. Corn and other grains presented the same trading conditions as wheat.

Rallies of about 4 cents in wheat values at Winnipeg led to occasional purchases orders here. In no instance, however, for the time being did the Chicago market rise above the bottom figures established as an emergency measure two weeks ago, when prices suffered big breaks following financial embarrassment of a trader who supplied grain and other commodities as well as securities totaling far up into millions of dollars. Removal of an absolute price level after the close tomorrow will still leave in effect a limit on fluctuations, preventing any market change in excess of five cents a bushel up or down during any one day.

Leading traders said the crop outlook in North America was one of close adjustment, suggesting an attitude of confidence as to the future of grain values despite temporary unsettling conditions prevalent. Some notice was taken of reports that remaining supplies of wheat in Argentina and Australia were so reduced that weekly exports from Argentina hereafter could not average more than 2,000,000 bushels this season and Australia not more than 3,000,000.

Corn traders had reports of a second brood of chinch bugs in numerous numbers threatening Illinois fields. The great bulk of the corn crop was reported as small in growth with a heavy percentage of barren stalks indicating hardly more than half a crop.

Provisions dealings were at a standstill with grains.

ROCKFORD MAN IS FOUND DEAD NEAR HIS AUTO

Authorities Mystified By Death Of Manufacturer Sunday

Rockford, Ill., Aug. 14—(AP)—The mysterious death of Earl Honson, 42, an executive of the Ingersoll Milling Company, whose burning body was found beside his automobile last night, was being investigated by authorities today.

His body was discovered in the lane of his divorced wife's home, six miles north of Rockford. Honson, who had custody of his 12-year-old daughter, June, on Sunday of Julius Myers, merchant of Springfield.

Myers jumped from a 16th floor hotel room. The body will be sent to Springfield for burial.

A nephew of the dead man, also named Julius Myers, testified that he had seen his uncle just prior to his departure for Chicago to attend the National Retail Clothiers' and Furnishers' Association convention, before which he was scheduled to give an address. Myers had apparently been in a normal mental condition, the nephew said.

W. A. Meier, director of Myers' store in Springfield, said it was financially sound and that money matters probably had nothing to do with the suicide.

Chicago, Aug. 14—(AP)—Leaving a note in which he said, "I cannot enjoy life any more" Julius Myers, 63, Springfield, Ill., merchant and a former president of the National Retail Clothiers' and Furnishers' Association, found the death he sought in a leap from a 16th floor window of a hotel.

His body was found yesterday on a fifth floor projection and members of his family in Springfield said they were unable to ascribe any reason for his act. They said he had not suffered ill health and denied that he had had domestic or financial troubles.

Myers registered at the Sherman Hotel Saturday night to attend the annual convention of the clothiers' association, of which he was a director, opening today.

Left Note In Room

He was vice president of Myers Brothers, Springfield department store, and had taken an active part in civic and club affairs of his home city. Associated with him in the store were his brothers, Albert, president and Louis, secretary-treasurer.

The note was found in his room. It was addressed to his wife, Rita, and read:

"Am ending this existence as it is best for you and the kiddies. I don't want to be a wet blanket, as I can not enjoy life anymore. You all have been wonderful to me."

Besides the widow he is survived by four children, Marshall, associated with him in the store; Robert, a Dartmouth student; Ruth, 22, a graduate of the University of Illinois; and Catherine, a high school student.

NEW JERSEY HOME OF 20 FOOT CROCODILE 50 Million Years Ago

New York, Aug. 14—(AP)—Fossils of the bones of a 20-foot-long crocodile that lived near Camden, N. J., 50,000,000 years ago was announced today at the American Museum of Natural History.

The bones were in a marble pit at Sevel. Because time had fused some of them into gigantic pieces, they were at first mistaken by the discoverers as Dinosaur bones. At this news, Dr. Walter Granger, of the museum, who has traveled half way round the world hunting Dinosaur bones, made an excited dash into New Jersey.

Notwithstanding that this one turned out to be a crocodile, Dr. Granger expects that some day New Jersey will prove to be a treasure store of Dinosaurs.

BIG STORE HAS TURNED $304.69 OVER TO RELIEF

Montgomery Ward's Donation Here To Local Committee

William Geigle, manager of the Dixon store of Montgomery Ward & Co. today turned over to Supervisor D. H. Spencer, chairman of the County Emergency Relief Committee, a check for $304.69, the amount of unclaimed sales tax collected under the invalid law early in the year, thereby following the plan of donating such unrefunded money to relief work, first suggested by this company. This sum of $304.69 is in addition to large refunds made to customers who saved their sales slips and claimed their tax payments. When the Ward stores began collection of the tax, the sales people were instructed to indicate the amount on the sales slips, and customers could keep their sales slips and claim their tax payments. When the tax was declared unconstitutional, customers were reimbursed upon presentation of these sales slips.

ITALY'S HEROES OF AIR RETURN TO THEIR LABOR

Honored, Feted And Decorated By Il Duce Saturday

Rome, Aug. 14—(AP)—Air Marshal Italo Balbo's trans-Atlantic aviators thought of home and work today.

They told their families of adventures over the Atlantic, in North America, at the World's Fair in Chicago, and in New York, and other places.

They told of the triumphs and the awards they received from an admiring government and an enthusiastic populace. And today they were ready for work again.

The pilots and mechanics of the giant seaplanes set out six weeks ago on a mass flight that Premier Mussolini yesterday told them was a "consecrated Fascist revolution in the skies of two continents."

Many years will pass before the air corps of other countries equal the feat which was concluded Saturday with the arrival in Ostia. Il Duce said, as he conferred the title of Air Marshal on General Balbo and kissed the Commander on both cheeks. Each flier was given a medal of honor and a promotion.

Relatives of Sergt. Quintavalle, killed at Amsterdam on the outward voyage, and Lieut. Scagliola, who died in the Azores on the homeward trip, were given gold medals, the country's highest award for bravery.

Before a triumphal march like that of the ancient emperors, King Victor Emmanuel received the aviators. Crowds numbering thousands gave them an ovation unrivaled in years. There were two receptions yesterday: afternoon, one at Fascist headquarters, and the other in the Capitol building given by the Governor of Rome.

Leslie-Walgreen Nuptials Solemnized

A very quiet wedding was solemnized Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy F. Leslie on North Artesian Avenue, Chicago, when their daughter, Miss Mary Ann Leslie, became the bride of Charles Walgreen Jr. There were only a few guests at the ceremony.

The charming bride wore a beautiful, yet simple, fashionable gown of white satin and she carried a lovely bouquet of sweetheart roses and lilies of the valley.

After the ceremony a wedding supper was served at the home of the bride's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Walgreen Jr., then left on a wedding trip to the north, to be absent about six weeks. He hopes to thus escape his usual hay fever episodes.

The charming bride has recently been a guest of the bridegroom's mother at Hazelwood. She is a general favorite with members of his family.

Funeral Of Head Rockford College Impressive Rite

The funeral of Dr. William Maddox, head of Rockford College, who met a tragic death under the wheels of a train, was an impressive service, attended by many thousands. The casket was covered by a six-foot blanket of white phlox and blue monkshood flowers made by Mrs. Herbert Hicks, formerly of Dixon. Among the great mass of floral offerings was a beautiful wreath from William and Mary College, from which he graduated. Mrs. H. T. Bardwell and daughter Clara Gwen attended the services.

AROUND THE CORNER

AROUND the corner I have a friend,
In this great city which has no end;
Yet days go by and weeks rush on,
And before I know it a year is gone,
And I never see my old friend's face!

For life is a swift and terrible race,
He knows I like him just as well
As in the days when I rang his bell
And he rang mine. We were younger then;

And now we are busy, tired men—
Tired with playing foolish games;
Tired with trying to make a name.
"To-morrow," I say, "I will call on Jim."

Just to show that I'm thinking of him,
But to-morrow comes—and to-morrow goes.

And the distance between us grows
And grows.
Around the corner—yet miles away
"Here's a telegram sir," Jim died today!

And that's what we get—yet deserve
in the end—
Around the corner a vanished friend.

—Charles Hanson Towne.

THE STARS SAY SATIN'S SMART FOR THE FALL

Black satin is one of the smartest things a girl can wear this fall. Combine it with white satin and you have something that is really ultra-smart.

Irene Bentley wears a chic new afternoon suit in black satin with a white bodice. The jacket isn't shown but it has large revers of white satin.

The drawing room neckline is very flattering as are the short raglan sleeves.

The girls with a picnic at Lowell Park. The girls all enjoyed a swell picnic at Lowell Park yesterday. A big basket dinner was served, a fine fellowship brought to memory many things that happened in and around Astoria as acquaintanceships were renewed. Color Keeps You Cool

COLOR in a kitchen can make or ruin an angel cake. All the best cooks know. When a woman "sees r d" on a hot summer day, her disposition shows in the pastry. Or even the salad, it sad biscuits can often be traced to hot, strident colors on the kitchen wall.

Do the colors in your kitchen suggest frosty March mornings, ocean rays and deep beds of mint? Or do you take one look at the kitchen and think of a hot skillet?

Walls, as you've probably discovered, are tremendously important. Try painting the wastebasket, dust pan, shelves and back walls of cupboards—and even the linings of drawers—in a single gay color. Jade, turquoise and periwinkle make excellent accents. Pale canary yellow when combined with certain shades of green is a good summer tint. But as a rule, reds, oranges and yellows must be used discreetly. They are all classed as "hot" colors.

You'll enjoy lowering the kitchen thermometer with paint. Bring on the waterfalls, the willow trees and the clean salt spray!

Then, of course, there's the linoleum. If the design has begun to seem unduly familiar, or if it requires too frequent scrubbing, remove any wax that may be on it and apply a coating of four-hour varnish or linoleum lacquer. Blue, black and green are all good for summer depending on your color scheme. When the solid color dries, stipple over it in a light, harmonizing gray and footprints will be less noticeable. If the renewed linoleum is waxed frequently, a damp mop will keep it spotless.

Small accents of bright, cool color repeated throughout the room are like a fresh breeze in the kitchen. Try painting the wastebasket, dust pan, shelves and back walls of cupboards—and even the linings of drawers—in a single gay color. Jade, turquoise and periwinkle make excellent accents. THE CHALLENGE OF THE NEW FRONTIER.

One of the reasons why America always came out of its 19th century depressions so completely was that it always had a frontier awaiting development. When industrial stagnation in the east had reached a certain point, the country could turn west, roll up its sleeves and proceed to pull another section of the frontier into the fold; and before it got through it discovered that the depression was gone.

No one needs to be told today that the old frontier is no more. We haven't any vast undeveloped spaces along the western horizon any longer; none, at least, that we can use just now. But we have a new frontier these days, if we only stop to recognize it, and it can serve us today precisely as the old western frontier served us a generation or two ago.

Our new frontier is less tangible than the old ones, and you won't find it on any map. It includes practically all of industry and nearly all of agriculture. The pioneers who are attacking it are the workers, the farmers and the business men of the United States; their map—still a bit rough and uncertain, in spots—is the combined industrial recovery and farm relief program.

It isn't just a figure of speech to say that all of this stands as a new frontier.

The old, physical frontier represented an obstacle to be conquered, new paths to be found, jobs to be filled, daring decisions to be made—with a new space in which men and women could establish home, bring up children and hunt for happiness as the prize.

This new frontier represents exactly the same thing.

It is a challenge, just as the old one was, to our daring, our ingenuity and our endurance. Beyond it there lies nothing less than a new order of living waiting to be exploited. The possibilities are as unlimited as any that an early pioneer saw when he climbed an unexplored mountain peak and looked off to the west.

The present moment is the end of a depression, but it is the beginning of a new era. The future can be finer than anything in our past has been, if we just recognize our new frontier and tackle it as a frontier should be tackled.

TOO MUCH CREDIT IS BAD.

Secretary of Commerce Roper's assertion before the National Association of Credit Men that unwarranted credit expansion is "an erosive influence" which must be eliminated before real prosperity can be restored is a very timely and valuable warning.

It could be argued very plausibly that a leading reason for the collapse of our last boom was the fact that too many people had been persuaded to live beyond their means. It was too easy to go into debt, too easy to buy something now and pay for it next year; nations, corporations and individuals all suffered, and still suffer, as a result.

Billions of dollars worth of foreign bonds, sold in those easy-credit years, are today practically worthless. Many a business and many a person would have come through the depression in fairly good shape if it had not been for the load of debt that had to be carried along.

All of this does not mean that the right kind of credit should not be available. It simply means that we shall pile up new troubles for ourselves if we go back to the slipshod, free-and-easy ways of the past.

ADVICE TO THE JOBLESS.

The high school or college graduate who is looking for a job this summer is in a pretty tough spot. It is very hard to tell him where to go to look for work; but one bit of advice can be given him without hesitation—"Don't go to New York unless you already have a job there lined up."

A committee of the New York Welfare Council has just issued a warning to all young graduates pointing out that opportunities in the old home town are apt to be a lot better this summer, for youthful jobseekers, than they are in New York.

"Unless you have friends or relatives here, an assured job or money enough to last a year, don't come to New York," the committee says; and this discouraging warning ought to be taken to heart by all ambitious graduates. This is no time for drifting off to the metropolis on the chance that something will turn up.

Let me give a solemn warning: Do not trifle with the NRA Blue Eagle. In the confusion of early days, a man may get away with it, but the day of reckoning against an aroused public opinion is sure.—General Johnson, NRA administrator.

However good a dictatorship may be, however constructive and convenient, it always compromises the future because it leaves as a legacy, disorder.—Gen. Plutarco Elias Calles of Mexico.

The battlefield is for man what motherhood is for a woman. Mothers must give themselves to the bearing of children and fathers must fall on the battlefield to assure a future for their sons.—Franz von Papen of Germany.

It was a funny sight to see each Tiny, happy as could be, dance round while clinging to an arm of Mister Octopus.

Soon Duncy stopped and cried, "I am through. That's all the dancing I can do. The octopus is twisted, though, and that might start a fuss."

"There is one thing that I can suggest," said Scouty. "We will take a rest and then we'll run the other way for just a little while. I'm sure the octopus won't mind what we have done, if we unwind his funny-looking, long arms." "Fine," said Shrimpy, with a smile.

"Well, count me out," snapped Duncy. "Gee, if you will just look you'll plainly see that running round in circles is much more than I can stand."

"It makes my head swim. That is not all. Each moment I think I will fall." "All right, I will take your place," cried Shrimpy. "Sure! I'll lend a hand."

And so, it wasn't very long until they'd made right what was wrong. The long arms of the funny octopus were free.

"All right, now Octy, you can go. You've helped us put on quite a show," said Shrimpy. Scouty added, "You've been kind as kind can be."

Tired Duncy, flopped upon the ground, cried, "Look! The whole bunch glanced around and saw two fine seahorses. Try and catch them," Scouty cried.

And then a smile spread on his face and he exclaimed "We'll have a race. I'll race with wee Duncy if he's not too tired to ride."

"I'm rested now. Sure, I'll join in," said Duncy. "And I'll bet I win." Old Shrimpy called the horses and they came right to his side.

"Just straddle them and hang on tight," said he. "Then you will be all right." Soon Windy cried, "They're off! My this will be a thrilling race."

EAST SIDE NEW YORK

By Dr. Joseph Fort Newton

One day I went to the East Side of New York, to offer a prayer over a little child run over and killed by a car. Up four flights of stairs, along narrow halls lit by dim gas jets, over floors creaky and uneven, I reached the tenement "home," where I witnessed a heart-breaking scene. It made me feel again the pathos of life.

Half a hundred people had gathered in the rooms and halls, a testimony to the kindness and neighborliness of the poor. After the service, as the little body was carried out, the children who had been playing in the streets assembled at the door, the bright, pretty faces bestrewn with dirt, making a picture as they stood in silence.

For hours I wandered along the dingy streets, littered with rubbish where people are so crowded that life treads on life, and solitude must be unknown. The sidewalks swarmed with children, the air jetty black or silvery gray, and the noble profiles of their race. Among such as these, I remembered, Jesus walked, and from among them he chose His friends. Only the joy of children at play redeemed the drabness of the scene from utter desolation, yet it was accepted with a patient fatalism.

As I walked toward home in the falling daylight, the scene was touched by the gentleness of evening, blurring its harsh realities with beauty, like the mercy of God softening the brutality of man. What a pity that a glittering city should shade off into such shabbiness! How awful that people should live in places more like dens than homes!

OBITUARY

RUTH BARNETT BUTCHER

Was born January, 24 1901 at Eureka, Illinois, departed this life July 30, 1933 at Norfolk, Virginia. She was the daughter and only child of Rev. and Mrs. James A. Barnett of Dixon. She graduated from the high school at Lincoln, Ill. in June 1918. That same fall she entered Eureka College and graduated from that institution in June 1922 with the degree of Bachelor of Arts. She entered the University of Chicago and spent one term pursuing post graduate work. She taught a half year in the high school at Ewing, Ill. and the following year, taught History and Political Economy in the high school at Clinton, Ill. She went with her parents to Jacksonville, Fla. in the fall of 1924 and took a position in the John Gorrie Junior High School of that city, which position she held for four years. There she met her future husband, Dana A. Butcher of Norfolk, Va. In the meantime her parents had returned to Illinois accepting a return pastorate at Pekin. In the summer Ruth returned to be with her parents and on Nov. 17 1929 she was joined in marriage to Mr. Butcher, who survives her. Since their marriage their home had been in Norfolk, where they lived happily until death came to separate them. Mrs. Butcher's death was due to complications following the birth of little Ruth Allison, their first baby, who lived only one day. The mother hovered between life and death many days at Memorial Hospital, Norfolk, death finally came gently on Sunday July 30th. Mrs. Butcher's charming personality had won her hundreds of friends in that eastern city where she had made her home for almost four years. She was active in church work and thereby widely extended her influence. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. C. M. Gordon, pastor, in the First Christian church of Norfolk, on Tuesday, Aug. 1, after which the funeral party consisting of the father, mother and husband accompanied by two of Mrs. Barnett's sisters, Mrs. Josephine Ball and Mrs. G. B. Whiteman started on the long journey to the old home at Clinton, Illinois. There another service was held Friday, Aug. 4, in the Christian church, Rev. C. G. Kindred of the Englewood Christian church, who married them, assisted by Rev. H. B. Wheaton, the pastor, preaching the funeral sermon. Interment was in Memorial Cemetery at Clinton.

Among the freight carried by the airplane which inaugurated airmail service between Quebec province and New York state was a live black bear cub.

UNDULANT FEVER

Undulant fever is a disease condition which has been recognized only during comparatively recent years, although it was known as long ago as 1887 under the name of Malta fever.

It has since been shown that Malta fever and undulant fever are practically the same disease.

In the United States the disease which affects cows primarily and humans only secondarily, is spread through the drinking of infected cows' milk and through the handling of infected cows.

Undulant fever, as the name indicates, is a disease of indefinite duration and irregular course. It is not responsible for many deaths but it is a debilitating condition.

The onset of undulant fever is slow and insidious. The patient usually complains of lassitude—that is, a feeling of fatigue, headache, weakness and irregular fever. Later in the disease the patient may complain of drenching night sweats.

The characteristic symptom of the disease is the wave-like periods of fever, which may last for weeks or more and then gradually decline until the temperature is normal. A period of normal temperature may intervene between attacks.

In some cases the patient may develop small blisters in the mouth. He may also suffer diarrhea, though constipation is more common. The sufferer usually complains of vague pains in different parts of the body.

The diagnosis of the disease is not difficult, though it is difficult to differentiate it from typhoid fever, influenza, malaria, tuberculosis, rheumatic fever and other disease conditions. The diagnosis of undulant fever can usually be made by means of a blood test. The prevention of the disease depends chiefly on the pasteurization of milk, which destroys the germ.

THREE GUESSES

Treatment is not satisfactory. However, of late good reports have been made on a so-called protein shock treatment, consisting of the injection of a certain type of vaccine.

Sidelights In News In Capital Of United States

By HERBERT PLUMMER

Washington — Whatever others may say or think about A. V. Dairymple and his conduct as Director of the nation's prohibition forces, the big major carries away with him documentary proof of loyal cooperation from his chief. Just before the prohibition bureau was merged with the bureau of investigation, Attorney General Cummings wrote him:

"In certain quarters, I understand, it is said that there has been constant friction between us from the time of your appointment, and that I have been irritated by the manner in which you have discharged your duties."

"Nothing, of course, could be further from the truth."

Perhaps no other appointment in the new administration was the storm center as that of Major Dairymple. His career as prohibition director here was brief but vivid.

He had been in office only three weeks before he was the center of a controversy.

Storm Center— When it became noised about that brewing permits had been issued to eastern gangsters, the hurricane broke around his head. Things were complicated further when it became known that he had shifted a Pacific Coast administrator without foreknowledge of the attorney general.

Dairymple became irritated at what he termed "sight criticism" of his office. In a turbulent press conference he dictated a statement that fairly bristled. Then, flatly declining to answer any questions about his actions since he had been director, he pounded his desk and refused to say anything further.

Multiplying Rumors— Immediately rumors that Dairymple's days as prohibition director were numbered began to spread. It was also hinted that he and Senator McAdoo of California who had advocated his appointment, had come to a parting of the ways. Speculation as to how long he would remain in office was increased by his appearance before the ways and means committee of the House in support of a bill that would legalize 11 per cent wine, while at the same time he expressed his opposition to the repeal of the 18th amendment.

Joining the "Ex-es"— There have been many "exes" of prohibition crossing the Washington stage. Cramer of Ohio was the first, in the closing days of the Wilson administration. Roy Haynes of Ohio was next. Then followed General Andrews, Mr. Doran, Seymour Lowmyer, Mabel Walker Willebrandt and finally Col. Amos W. W. Woodcock, who went out when the new administration came in March 4.

NRA COMMITTEE MEETS THIS EVE TO MAP CAMPAIGN

Dixon Administrators To Discuss Plans At C. C. Office

The Dixon NRA general committee will hold an important meeting at the Chamber of Commerce office at 7:30 o'clock this evening to further perfect the organization and plan for a concerted campaign in Dixon to enroll every employer and every consumer under the blue eagle.

Firms which signed the blanket code agreement Saturday afternoon and this morning brought the roll of Dixon employers under the eagle to 256, the recruits being: Dixon Public Hospital, Miss Ada Decker, Suppt.; Chas. R. Curran, grocer, 218 Ottawa Ave.; M. Hohnstein, Southwell grocery, 406 Chicago Ave.; H. Raffenberg & Son, real estate and insurance, 106 Galena Ave.; M. M. Lynds, restaurant, 1121/2 Peoria Ave.; Elliott Chandler, Dixon Fur and Cleaning Co., 323 E. Fourth St.; E. J. Myers, garage, state highway No. 2, Bert Frazz repair shop, 218 Commercial Alley; J. M. Brady, Wholesale Candy, 608 Chicago Ave.; G. L. Howell repair shop, 306 River St.; Henry Wenger, 703 Depot Ave.; D. J. Billig, Nachusa Tavern, 215 Galena Ave.

Postmaster Meyer reported today that some firms had been giving consumer's insignia to patrons who had not signed the pledges of cooperation, which is against the instruction from NRA headquarters. The postmaster also calls attention to the rule that consumers should not sign more than one pledge card.

DIFFER OVER RESULTS

Washington, Aug. 14.—(AP)—The giants pions of NRA's blue eagle were held today by officials to be hovering over a quarter of the nation's 40,000,000 workers.

And to assure that the wage-raising work-spreading bird would cover even more territory, President Roosevelt and his helpers launched a new series of meeting to map out the future program.

One was today, the first conference between Hugh S. Johnson, national recovery administrator, and President Roosevelt since the Chief Executive returned to Washington from his short vacation. Johnson's aides, during his absence in St. Louis for a speech last night, reported progress to the President, but Mr. Roosevelt wanted a personal discussion with his chief lieutenant.

Then later today, or tomorrow, the President is to meet his recovery council to see that all phases of the Federal effort to better conditions are being synchronized.

Support Expected

Because the President has accepted much of the advice already given to him by Johnson, the expectation was that he would approve an elaboration of the idea the Administrator is advancing now, like in his St. Louis speech last night when he said:

"If you see a place where there is none and you do any kind of business there you have a right to ask: 'Brother, where is your eagle?' And if the answer does not seem fair to take your business elsewhere. If every person x x x did that for a week there would not be a store or a shop or factory in this whole country without its blue eagle."

Meanwhile, in the absence of data on which to base correct figures, NRA officials declined today to estimate with any claimed attempt at accuracy, how far they had come toward their original goal of putting 5,000,000 unemployed back to work by Labor Day. But their guesses ranged as high as 1,500,000 and as low as 200,000.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Soul" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, August 13.

The Golden Text was, "My soul thirsteth for God, for the living God" (Isaiah 42:2).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "And now, Israel, what doth the Lord thy God require of thee, but to fear the Lord thy God, to walk in all his ways, and to love him, and to serve the Lord thy God with all thy heart and with all thy soul. To keep the commandments of the Lord, and his statutes, which I command thee this day for thy good" (Deut. 10:12, 13).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Man walks in the direction towards which he looks, and where his treasure is, there will his heart be also. If our hopes and affections are spiritual, they come from above, not from beneath, and they bear as of old the fruits of the Spirit" (p. 451).

BRETHREN CHURCH

The T. H. McWehly family gave a wonderful program which was entertaining, education and spiritual at 7 o'clock following this service the parable of the sower was illustrated in songs and short talks. The hymn, "Bringing in the Sheaves" was pantomimed by the Roy Glessner family and Dean Hoff. We are very grateful for the large crowds which have attended our Sunday evening services during the summer months.

Prayer meeting will be conducted at the church Wednesday evening at 7:45. This service will be interesting to both young and old.

For the LOVE of EVE by Lucy Walling

BEGIN HERE TODAY

EVE BAYLESS, pretty assistant to EARLE BARNES, advertising manager of Dixy's department store, secretly marries DICK RADER, a construction engineer. Dick wants Eve to give up working but she refuses.

The same day Eve learns that she is to go to New York for the store and must leave that night. Dick takes her to the station but throughout the week in New York she has no word from him. The days there are busy. She meets THERON REECE who is much attracted by her and she visits IRENE PRENTISS, a former schoolmate who is playing the stock market and advises Eve to do the same.

On her return to Lake City Dick takes Eve to the fashionable Hotel Miramar where he has engaged a suite.

At the office MARYA VLAD, fashion artist, and ARLENE SMITH, stenographer, are eager to hear of Eve's trip. There is a new copy writer, MONA ALLEN, who threatens to become a trouble-maker.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER VII

EVE and Dick stayed at the Hotel Miramar for a week. They usually dined in the marine dining room overlooking the lake. Eve enjoyed the formality of their surroundings and each evening wore a different costume. She had a fair for clothes and was aware that, though many of the women about her were gowning more expensively, few wore smarter costumes. And because she was happy her eyes glowed and smiles curved her lips. When she looked at Dick, correct in his severe evening clothes, she was proud of him.

"Dick," she began enthusiastically the fourth night of their stay at the Miramar, "I've an idea!"

"You're full of ideas," teased Dick. "What is it now?"

"Let's always dress for dinner. There's no reason why people who have fortunes should monopolize all the niceties of life. It's fun to change into evening clothes for dinner. Don't you think so?"

"M-m," answered Dick. "Then we'll do it always! Oh, Dick, I'm so glad you see things as I do. You're a perfect dear! I'd like to have just an ordinary husband. You'll let me plan everything the way I want it, won't you, dear?"

"M-m," answered Dick. After dinner he suggested going out to watch the skating. They put on warm wraps and trudged through the snow over the deserted bridge path to the lake.

"Reminds me of the lake at home," said Dick. "I'd like to be out on the ice now. Haven't skated for 10 years. My old skates got too short and I never seemed to have money to buy new ones."

"Oh, Dick," Eve interrupted him. "I've just had a grand idea for the lead for my column tomorrow. I can so easily wait to write it. See the red and white outfit that girl is wearing? It gave me the idea. Here she comes now. Why, as I live and breathe, it's Gladys Rippel! Dick, let's leave. If we want to keep our marriage a secret we can't afford to be meeting people we know."

Eve turned back toward the hotel and Dick followed reluctantly. He would have enjoyed skating in the moonlight on the frozen edge of the lake.

He took Eve's arm to keep her from slipping on the icy walk. "Eve, sweetheart," he said, "I don't like keeping our marriage a secret. As far as I'm concerned there are few to whom it matters, but you, dear, have so many friends in the city that it is bound to cause complications."

"I'm thinking of my position," she said. "We'll announce it later." With this Dick had to be content.

EACH morning he drove to "the job" before 7:30. Eve, in her smart black business clothes, boarded an eight o'clock trolley. She never glanced at the morning Times until she reached the older district of the city where the streets were lined with stores and office buildings. Instead she looked at the beautiful homes along the boulevard over which she rode. Eve wondered about the people who lived in those houses and was sure she could never be contented until she had such a home. The apartment at the hotel would do, however, she told herself, until she and Dick could afford a home like one of those.

His promotion at the office had not brought with it the satisfaction Eve had expected. She had realized how much Alice Marshall had smoothed her way and made things easy for her.

Eve was particularly annoyed by Barnes' habitual tardiness in deciding how much space was to be devoted to each advertisement. This delay often made it necessary for her to prepare her copy at a speed making careful work impossible. Inevitably there came a day when she was obliged to remain an hour over time.

True, Barnes and Arlene were also detained, but that did not lessen Eve's resentment. She knew that if Barnes had been prompt the work easily could have been completed by 5:30, the store's closing hour.

friends in the city that it is bound to cause complications."

"I'm thinking of my position," she said. "We'll announce it later." With this Dick had to be content.

Saturday night came and the hotel held its weekly dinner dance. Eve wore the gown of pale gold lace that she had worn on her visit to the night club in New York with Theron Reece.

As she turned from the mirror she called to Dick: "I'm so happy, dear! I think this is the most adorable place to live. And I love dressing for dinner."

"It would be nice if we could stay on here," Dick agreed. "But I suppose since tomorrow is Sunday we can drive around and try to locate a place to settle in."

SOMETHING froze in Eve. She asked, ever so quietly, what Dick's plans were.

"We'll have to find a place within my income," he told her. "But we have two incomes!"

"We're not counting on anything you may earn," Dick announced with finality. "Your money is yours to do with as you please. If I were you I'd bank that money. You may do as you like, however. I'll never question you about it. But I am going to support our homes on my income and I will endeavor to add to our savings each payday."

Eve was not in the most pleasant frame of mind as they descended to the dining room. She had been enjoying the luxury of the past week and saw no reason why she and Dick should not combine their incomes and continue this mode of living which, she felt, would leave them free from the petty cares of the average young married couple.

"Dick," she began after the waiter took their order, "I don't want to argue but it seems only fair to remind you that we agreed marriage is a fifty-fifty proposition. So I want to pay my share."

"Successful marriage is always a fifty-fifty proposition," Dick agreed. "But that doesn't necessarily apply to finances the way you mean. I should say it is important for each ways to meet the other half way. What I mean is, turn for turn and fair play."

Eve recalled Dick's noncommittal, "M-m," each time she had thought she had scored a victory. She took her cue and said, "Let's have a marriage free from quarrels, too, Dick. Each of us will always think of the other's side of the question, won't we?"

"That's the only kind of a marriage I will have," he answered with emphasis.

Eve was determined to enjoy this present and let the future take care of itself. No need to hurry in locating another apartment. She would meet that unpleasant contingency when it arrived.

So she smiled brightly and said, "In the meantime on with the dance."

THEY danced between courses. It was not until after they had finished dinner that Eve saw Theron Reece.

He had just entered the dining room with a vivacious looking girl. The couple lost no time in getting on the dance floor. Reece's glance swept the restaurant and he saw Eve at once. She looked away but the crowd was not large and before the dance was concluded she was forced to return Reece's nod of recognition. Evidently he was determined to continue their acquaintance. A shadow of apprehension clouded Eve's sky. She hoped Reece had not noticed her wedding ring.

"Let's go now, Dick," she said when they returned to their table. He agreed without asking any questions.

But Reece was not to be disposed of so readily. He approached, bowing, and said, "Good evening, Miss Bayless."

Eve felt a sudden panic but managed to introduce the man without disclosing the fact that Dick was her husband. Before Reece could begin conversation she arose for another dance with Dick.

After all, she reasoned, it was not strange that Reece should be there. Much business was conducted between Lake City and Cincinnati and Reece, a salesman, lived in the latter place. The marine dining room of the Hotel Miramar was an attractive restaurant and it was natural for him to dine there. But Eve felt she wanted to leave the Miramar before her joy was spoiled.

So she said to Dick, "I think, darling, it might be fun to look for an apartment tomorrow. We will get up early and not lose any time."

She could not resist one guarded glance toward Reece's table as Dick guided her toward the door. There was something sinister in Reece's dark eyes as his glance met and locked with hers.

SARAZEN WINS PRO TITLE TO "SHOW" ARMOUR

Gene Disproved Tommy's Remarks That He's "All Washed Up"

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 14.—(AP)—Perched on the national professional golf championship throne for the third time, Gene Sarazen grinned one of his wide victory smiles today and chuckled.

"A washed up golfer, eh?" he muttered as he scanned accounts of his par-breaking victory march which ended yesterday with a 5 and 4 conquest over the stout-hearted Willie Goggin of San Francisco in the finals of the championship drive over the Blue Mound Country Club course.

"No sir, not by a long ways. I'm just getting hot."

Sarazen's remarks were directed at his old pal of golf, Tommy Armour, who called him a "washed up" golfer in a blast that preceded the 1933 championship tournament and ultimately helped to make it one of the most successful ever staged.

Gene Was Stung

No man can win the professional golf game and a fighting heart, but Armour's remarks about Sarazen's "washed up" status probably made Sarazen a champion once again. Stung to the quick by Tommy's remarks, Sarazen suddenly made up his mind to compete in the championship and then played his heart out to win against Goggin, one of the best ever to enter the finals. With fire in his eye, he qualified easily and then dusted off Vincent Eldred of Pittsburgh, Harry Cooper of Chicago, Ed Dudley of Wilmington, Del., Johnny Farrell, former national open champion, and, finally, Goggin, to clinch the title.

Enters Canadian Open

Cocksure again after winning his first championship of the year after he became one of the game's immortals by winning the British and American open championships in 1932, Sarazen today struck off for Toronto to compete in the Canadian open.

Goggin fought a great battle against a far more famous and experienced campaigner, but was just outclassed. Striking with a magic putter and spectacular irons, Sarazen drew away in the afternoon after Goggin had held him to a bare hole advantage in the morning and ended four under par for the day to rally home with his conquest.

Goggin, cheered on by the gallery of 5,000 who sent the tournament over the top financially, never headed Sarazen yesterday.

Players Reporting For East Vs West Game August 24th

Chicago, Aug. 14.—(AP)—Howard Jones of the University of Southern California, who will direct the west team against Dick Hanley's eastern gridiron stars at Soldier Field, August 24, called his men out for their first drill today.

Fifteen members of the far western squad were due to arrive this morning and were scheduled to get down to work after lunch. Jones announced changes in his squad. Garret Arbilide, former Southern California end, is playing baseball in the Pacific Coast League, and will be replaced by Dick Mulhaupt, from the University of California at Los Angeles. George Sargent, Loyola of San Francisco lineman, will take the place of Dick Tozer of California, who also found it impossible to make the trip.

The east squad reported to Hanley at Northwestern University yesterday.

NOTES ON GOLF

We note that Bobby Jones may come out of his three-year retirement and take up the cudgel against 30 of the world's best golfers in a match to be staged by the city fathers of Augusta, Ga.

Now, Gen. Hugh S. Johnson ought to do something about that. He should see to it that a rodeo is formed preventing Bobby from coming back. The reason for such a code is that Mr. Jones' brand of golf is enough to cause unemployment in the ranks, and that's just what we're trying to get away from.

Figures on the number of professionals who took up the game after Jones' retirement aren't available right now, but they probably run into the thousands. To discourage them by Jones' comeback, and cause them to throw up the sponge, would be cruel, indeed.

QUEEN HELEN TO FACE REAL FOES IN TOURNAMENT

Sign Of Break In Her Armor Spurs Many Tennis Stars

Forest Hills, N. Y., Aug. 14.—(AP)—Spurred on by the first sign of a break in the hitherto invincible armor of Helen Wills Moody, a brilliant international field set out today in quest of the American women's singles tennis crown she has won seven times in the past decade.

Along the pathway to her picturesque goal—equalling the eight title record of the woman whose reign she broke in 1923, Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory—Mrs. Wills faces the topmost stars of Great Britain as well as her own nation. And to add to this opposition, there is the question of her physical condition, her recovery from the back injury that forced her out of the recent Wightman Cup matches with Great Britain.

Foreign Contestants

In the field today are all the invaders who lost the spectacular cup series, headed by Dorothy Round, the English Sunday school teacher who took from Mrs. Moody in the final at Wimbledon the only set the California girl has lost in singles competition in six years. They include Mary Healey, Britain's top ranked player; Peggy Scriven, a left handed star; Freda James, Mrs. L. R. C. Michel and Betty Nuthall, who won the Amer-players to qualify for the National Amateur shot the low score of 138, and that only three shot 139.

The lone player to register 138 was Frank Delp of Tacoma; the three 139's were Lawson Little, Californian, Leland Hamman, Texan, and Johnny Goodman, Omaha who won this year's National Open.

The average score shot in the 20 qualifying districts counts up to about 146, which makes those four players, on the basis of their qualifying round, look pretty good indeed.

WE WONDER WHAT

The P. G. A. will do about those two bad boys, Denny Shute and Walter Hagen, after they changed their minds so many times about entering the P. G. A. tournament.

Francis Ouimet will do now that he failed to qualify for the Amateur after all those years of successful competition in the tournament.

It happened to that larger cup Hagen advocated last winter. Don't you wonder, too?

Domestic Rivals

Helen Jacobs, Mrs. Moody's California rival, who beat both Miss Rend and Miss Scriven in the Wightman Cup play, heads the domestic field as defending champion, winner last year when again Mrs. Moody did not seek the title. Behind Miss Jacobs are grouped the pick of America's women's singles players—Alice Marble of San Francisco; Sarah Palfrey of Boston, who played sensationally when called upon to substitute for Mrs. Moody against the British; Carolyn Babcock of Los Angeles; Josephine Cruickshank of Santa Anna, Cal.; Mrs. Marjorie Van Ryn of East Orange, N. J.; and Baroness Levi of New York.

RED SOX STAGE BIG INNING OF CURRENT SEASON

Rejuvenated Bostons Score 11 Runs In Initial Frame

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.

Associated Press Sports Writer

The Boston Red Sox, who have been looking more and more like a first division ball club, were in a position today to boast of the best scoring in the major leagues this season if they so desired.

Recovering from three defeats by Washington, the Sox went out yesterday, scored eleven runs in the first inning and walloped their favorite sparring partners, the Philadelphia Athletics 19 to 10. This stunt, exceeding by one run the previous high score for the year, made twice by the New York Giants, was the outstanding performance of a day which saw the Detroit Tigers come from behind to beat the Chicago White Sox 6-3 in a 17 inning game that fell just short of the season's record for length; the Washington Senators increase their American League lead to 5½ games with a 4-3 triumph over the New York Yankees; and the New York Giants, although defeated, hold their 3½ game margin over Pittsburgh in the National.
